AT ITS BEST

“No matter how hard I tried, my accounting information always seemed doubtful. I jumped from one accounting software to another and hired many accountants, senior and junior. Nothing seemed to work. An old colleague pointed towards ACS. Initially I was skeptical of the wisdom of outsourcing a key support function but then decided to take the plunge.

It has been three years since I outsourced my accounting worries to ACS. Since then, accounting information has started to make a lot more sense. Through a completely cloud based solution, no matter where I am, I always manage to stay on top of my receivables. Collections have dramatically improved, and my business decisions are increasingly based on factual information.”

Consulting. Outsourcing. Technology.

Spend more time on building your core business

Outsource to ACS, and develop a truly world-class finance organization

ACS is a remote accounting services specialist. Why put up with an expensive and inefficient, in-house accounting function when you can outsource to a robust, efficient and more cost effective solution.

“My colleagues and I were used to not being able to find out exactly where as a business we stood. Our team of internal accountants seemed too busy on a day to day basis with either transactional tasks or with recording information which never got translated into any form of reliable reports. Ever since we outsourced to ACS, not only have we saved a lot in salaries and benefits but have also achieved the ability to have real time clear insight into the business results. No more frustrating reconciliations and ever looming doubts about the accuracy of our accounting information. Planning has become lot easier and our focus is back on business development”

THE BUSINESS CHALLENGE! AN EFFICIENT AND EFFECTIVE FINANCE ORGANIZATION

The Outsourced Accounting Advantage

In an ever challenging global competitive landscape, smart business owners and finance executives continue to seek to streamline their processes and cut costs in order to achieve high performance and competitive business results.

The need for effective accounting and financial management to make informed decisions is universal. Every business owner or CFO wishes to build and manage a finance function that is efficient and effective i.e. that has the process rigor and control to keep costs in line and which is capable of generating accurate information to help their companies achieve high performance in a challenging, multi-polar world. It is an admirable, yet difficult, task.

However, not every business has the capacity to hire and manage a full accounting team, with experts in each area.

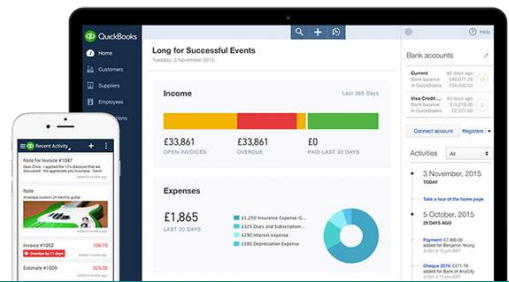

An alternative and better solution is to outsource the accounting function to a professional vendor that can add variability to the cost base, provide scalability solutions, replace/complement several CFO functions and above all take the functional output quality issues away.

ACS provides a full suite of outsourced accounting solutions to businesses of all size across a wide range of industries. Our finance specialists and accountants possess international qualifications and have extensive industry experience.

- ✓ Dedicated online accountants
- ✓ Fulltime/Part-time/Hourly
- ✓ Complete Cloud Based Systems

Make timely & informed business decisions based on accurate and up-to-date financial information

Businesses could both underutilize and overpay their accounting staff by having an in-house Controller or CFO perform basic accounting functions. More commonly, they hire accounting clerks to perform high-level functions they are not qualified to do. This results in either a lack of financial expertise, or disproportionate pay for services.

"ACS truly transformed the way we did our accounting. We were initially not very sure of the viability of a long distance relationship and their abilities to understand our processes. I was personally amazed to witness how they customized a solution around our core business processes and was further amazed by their ability to enhance our fundamental controls. All done remotely using technology to its best. After all these years in business, I finally get to see timely and accurate reports that I can base my business decision on. ACS is always there for us when we need them. The guidance and personal level of service is unparalleled. It is sometimes hard to tell that the dedicated staff is not actually & physically sitting in the same building"

ACS

ACS's Scalable Accounting Solutions

ACS has the capability and experience to fully outsource your internal accounting functions from basic bookkeeping services and data entry to CFO level strategy and expertise.

Whatever level of outsourcing you choose to implement, we ensure that your retained functions are fully in sync with the outsourced processes.

As your business evolves, so will your accounting needs. Teaming up with ACS, you can grow from being a one person business to a listed company without having to worry about scaling up of your accounting and reporting functions.

CFOs who speak with us about a previous, less-than-satisfying experience with finance and accounting BPO often state a common complaint i.e. the performance of their retained organization is at risk when the focus is solely on the outsourced processes.

ACS knows that the best outsourcing providers aren't simply "providers" at all; they are partners, joining forces with their clients to deliver high performance across the entire finance organization and beyond.

Accordingly, ACS offers experience and guidance in areas such as organization design, finance strategy and talent development so that the retained organization is strengthened and operating in harmony with the outsourced services.
