Finance Capability Built for Complex Business Groups

ACS SYNERGY strengthens group finance capability across diversified business portfolios by improving how leadership sees performance, interprets business-unit economics, and guides decisions across the group.

Our work is focused at the group level, where boards, shareholders, and Group CFOs require more than consolidated numbers. We help create the financial visibility, management information, and performance architecture needed to understand the group through a sharper operating and strategic lens.

Clearer View of the Group

ACS helps leadership gain more meaningful visibility across SBUs, entities, business lines, profit centers, and cost centers. The objective is not simply better reporting, but a clearer view of where value is being created, where performance is under pressure, and where management attention or capital should be directed.

Better Performance Intelligence

We strengthen the quality of management information used at group level. This includes reporting packs, KPI structures, analytical segmentation, budgeting and forecasting frameworks, and performance views that allow leadership to assess business units on a more consistent and decision-useful basis.

Stronger Support for Group Decisions

ACS brings additional depth to the areas where group finance matters most: portfolio oversight, capital allocation, scenario analysis, strategic planning, investment appraisal, and board-level financial decision support.

Our role is to strengthen the financial lens through which the group is managed.

Advisory Depth with Practical Execution

ACS combines senior advisory capability with hands-on delivery support. That allows improvements in reporting, planning, performance management, and finance capability to move beyond design into practical implementation across the group. This integrated model is consistent with ACS's broader positioning across CFO Advisory, FP&A, Finance Transformation, and technology-enabled delivery.

Strengthening Group Finance Where It Matters Most

Group Performance Visibility

We build reporting and performance frameworks that provide clear visibility across business units, entities, and functional areas, enabling leadership to understand where value is created and where performance requires attention.

FP&A as Decision Infrastructure

We strengthen budgeting, forecasting, cash flow visibility, and scenario modeling to support forward-looking decision-making at group level, moving finance beyond historical reporting into a core decision-support function.

Portfolio & Capital Allocation Insight

We provide the analytical depth required to assess business unit performance, evaluate strategic options, and support capital allocation decisions across the group.

CFO & Leadership Enablement

We work alongside Group CFOs and finance leadership to expand capacity during periods of complexity, growth, or transformation, strengthening insight, structure, and execution without disrupting existing teams.

Finance Transformation & Scalable Delivery

We support the evolution of group finance capability across operating models, reporting structures, and analytical infrastructure, combining senior advisory with globally integrated delivery to ensure practical, scalable execution.
